Learning Coach

RECRUITING: September/October via Job Board
DEPARTMENT: Academic Advising – UNC 207
SUPERVISOR: Brea Molnar - Breanne.molnar@ubc.ca
NUMBER OF POSITIONS: 5

PURPOSE:
Learning Coaches provide individualized support in the form of a one-on-one strengths based conversation with a fellow student. Coaches will help students develop the study skills needed to be successful in university. Learning Coaches will help students develop their skills in time management, procrastination, motivation, exam preparation, reading textbooks and note taking.

Position Description
The Learning Coaches will:
✓ Learn study skills strategies and resources
✓ Promote exploration and change in students’ study practices
✓ Provide information and resources to facilitate improved study practices
✓ Build and maintain confidential relationships with students
✓ Collaborate with Advising & Involvement Centre staff and UBC Okanagan campus partners

Commitment
2 hours/week from Sept 1 – Apr 30 (student’s course schedules will be accommodated)

Do you.....
✓ Have excellent study habits?
✓ Demonstrate effective communication skills to listen and coach others?
✓ Enjoy helping other people?
✓ Have the ability to motivate others?
✓ Want to work in a university environment?

You will enhance your skills in...
✓ Effective Communication — by evaluating solutions to make recommendations or decisions
✓ Facilitation — by facilitating engaging and productive meeting interactions and discussions
✓ Leadership — by providing direction and guidance to others
✓ Interpretation — by considering information and communicating meaning to others
✓ Professionalism — by demonstrating this in your attire, communication, and interactions online and in social media