

Major description

The Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Creative Writing is a four-year UBC degree with courses in writing, editing and publishing, spoken word, and community learning. It is designed to build students' range and confidence to the professional level, while familiarizing them with practical aspects of the writing life.

Draw on the imagination to convey meaning through the use of imagery, narrative, and drama in a variety of literary forms including poetry, fiction, plays, new media, screenwriting, and non-fiction.

Program highlights

An intimate learning community is a hallmark of the creative writing program. Upper-year classes are capped at 15 students.

Study under a faculty of award-winning writers dedicated to helping students experiment with their prose and grow as writers.

Connect your experiences

Whether you’re new-to-UBCO or nearing graduation, reflect on the questions below to help connect your values, interests, and education to your future career or personal goals. Practicing reflection can help deepen your learning, strengthen your connections, and encourage life-long learning. These reflection questions are meant to help you build a UBC Okanagan experience that is unique to you.

- What are you hoping to learn as you progress through your degree?
- What kind of career are you interested in after completing your degree?
- How will the skills and knowledge you acquire during your studies help you in your career after graduation?
- What relationships and experiences are you hoping to gain from your time at university?

Use the Program Plan regularly throughout your time at UBC to build an experience that is fulfilling and rewarding.
